Friends,

Thanks to the vigilance of Anthony from Housing Works, the DMH SB-82 team yesterday placed Curtis Hanson on a 5150 hold. He has been deteriorating significantly – and has been homeless within the same cubby for years. He was first noticed in the BID in 1997.

Name:
Karl Hansen (or Carl?)
(Yogi Michael Hagan)
DOB: 8/20/1965

He is being held at County USC, and tomorrow Anthony will present to the psychiatrist there any documentation we can pull together re/ the “grave disability” findings that would help to make the case for a conservatorship.

Steve, can you get started on this, and I will help finish.

Cameron – if there is any data you can provide to Anthony re/ his involvement with emergency response or local hospitals, can you help? You may need to directly provide this to the doctor, but wanted to put you on alert.

Captain – I know you have two officers now assigned to this issue, I just don’t have their emails (I am at home now – there is no internet yet in our new office).

Reggie – any involvement?

Thanks – let me know what you think you can come up with by end of day or first thing in the morning.

Devin and Kerry, can you please help on this situation on Selma just east of Las Palmas? The numbers are growing, they are taking over more the sidewalk, and the tenant complaints are increasing! I have not received any response from the police – I'm sure that they are very focused on Hollywood Blvd. and the Star Wars events right now – and while The Center has reached out, the bottom line is that these folks are there 24/7.

Isn't the law that they and their belongings must be off the sidewalk by 6 a.m.? And didn't you mention that your security folks nudge them in that direction every morning? Can you please follow up on that to see if they can make some headway?? We appreciate it so much.

Thank you.

Hi Joseph and Serena,

Just wanted to let you know that I haven't forgotten about you, or the issues you raised at our BID Security Meeting on November 11.

I am working to organize a meeting of the property owners and their tenants between Goodwill and the Social Security Admin – hopefully before Christmas. It's a little tedious to get to the store managers or regional managers, but I'm making headway. I want to have everyone in the room so we make this a collaborative effort.

Between now and then (and I will invite you) it will be helpful for you to document what you see – and what the patterns are. For example, I spoke with the property owner who has the Dollar Tree and Goodwill as tenants; she knows that there is a constant problem with trash in their parking lot – but notices that one block north, where the Office Depot is, there is no problem. What causes the difference between the two parking lots? People dropping off for Goodwill, or the encampments? You will notice things that the businesses won't – because you are there at night. This could be helpful for all of us.

When I drove home along Vine Street a couple weeks ago, I noticed this at SSA. Sent these photos to the property owner. Clearly there is a need to remove that ledge and reduce the loitering.

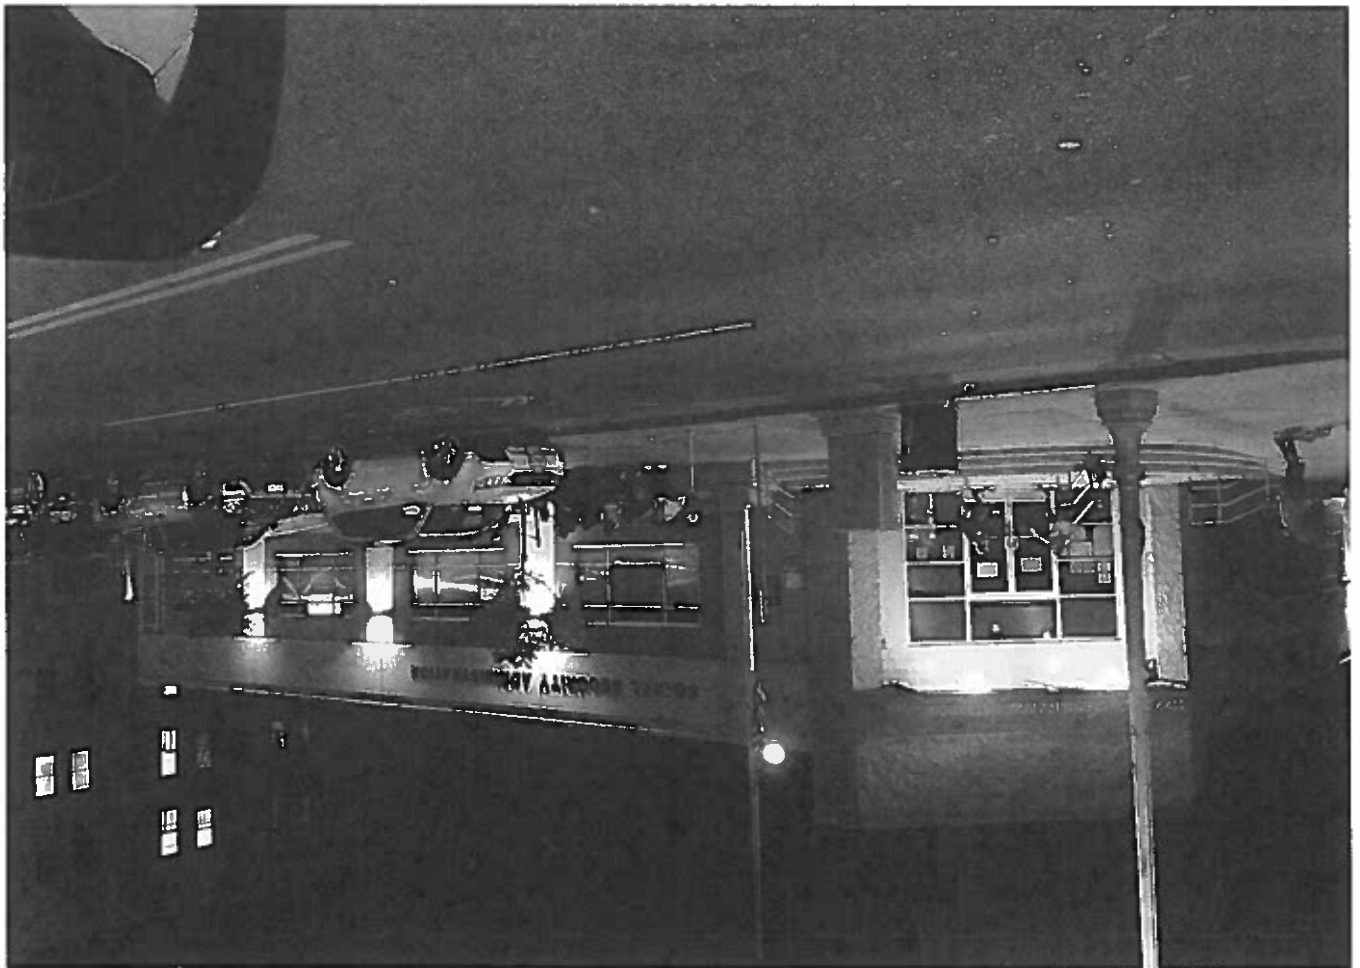

I am confident we can work together to make things safer – and wanted to keep you in the loop on this. I'll let you know when I settle on a date.

Hi Li,

I showed the packet to the CM and he likes the concept. His questions/feedback were:

1) Are you planning to beautify/improve/activate the entirety of the frontage of the post office? Thinking that, if only the corner area receives attention, the rest of the frontage might look out-of-place or neglected? We could at a future phase – It's probably best to think of this present proposal as Phase 1 of Postage Park. We're trying to be realistic about how we implement this initiative.

2) Have you had any discussions yet with the Post Office on these plans? No – have yet to figure out who to speak with at the Post Office – your help with this would be much appreciated.

Attached is our formal proposal for Postage Park which intends to capitalize on a very underutilized piece of open space at the northwest corner of Selma and Wilcox. Hopefully this presentation clearly explains the argument for, and addresses the concerns one might have with this Hollywood open space initiative.

Kerry, Matt – Based on our previous discussions, I trust this visual presentation along with both your's advocacy proves useful in gaining support from the BID Board to approve the BID operations unlocking and locking the gate at 10am and 8pm every day, and periodic maintenance like trash removal and power washing. Please let me know what else you may need to make a strong case for BID Board approval of these services– thanks!

Dan – hopefully this is the kind of proposal you were envisioning when we last exchanged notes on this at the end of summer about next steps to get this initiative off the ground. I'm hoping that with this in hand, we can approach the Post Office to gain their support. It is perhaps important to note that this is federally controlled land in a Federally funded Empowerment Zone – I would imagine that helps our case for support(?). Your advice and guidance on these next steps would be sincerely appreciated – thanks Dan and hope to see you at our pop-up parklet this weekend.

Steve, Joe reported at the board meeting last week that our security patrol budget might be $15,000 in the red at year end. I was surprised to hear that – as I thought we could taper down and keep this in line by year end.

Though dispatch was mentioned as a possible reason, I'm attaching the memo from earlier this year when we said we could stay in budget. We need to discuss what is going on here, and hone in on the appropriate variance and the reasons therefore.

TO: John Tronson, Chair, HED Security Committee
Fred Rosenthal, Chair, SVBID Security Committee

FROM: Kerry Morrison

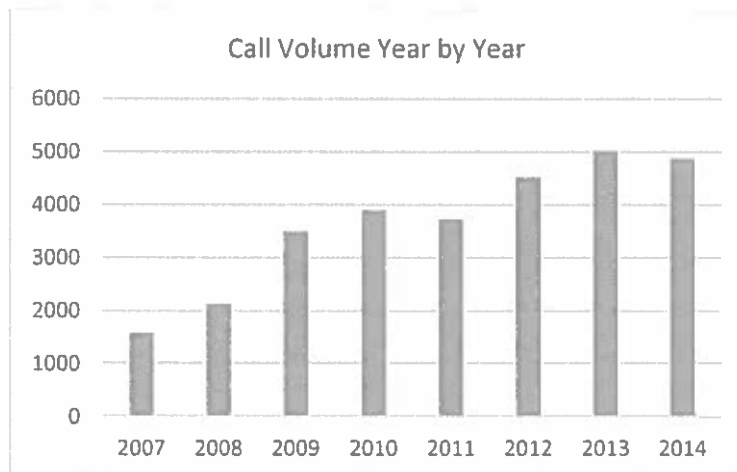

SUBJECT: Addition of professional dispatcher to Andrews Team

Gentlemen, I have been in conversations with Andrews International over the past couple months re/ the prospect of adding a professional dispatch position to the security office at Hollywood & Highland. This can be achieved within the existing security budget, and would address two issues that have become more evident over the past year or so: increased call volume and need to optimize officer safety. The proposal below also relieves our two key management level staff (Steve Seyler and Joe Salazar) from admin duties, which will lead to greater supervision and community visibility.

These points are outlined below. Please advise if you feel this needs to be brought to the full committee for discussion, or taken to the respective boards. Otherwise, with your blessing, we would proceed to authorize Andrews to make this adjustment.

Here is the background:

1. Current staffing configuration in the headquarters office includes two supervisors (Seyler and Salazar) and one admin person (Vicky). Vicky works weekdays. Steve and Joe stagger their shifts to the extent possible, to ensure Saturdays are covered. When Steve and Joe are not working at the same time, senior members of the A/I patrol team function in this supervisory capacity (e.g., Sundays, certain hours on Saturday, or early mornings). Dispatch is handled by a combination of staff currently – a combination of Vicky, Joe Salazar and the supervisor on duty (esp. on weekends and early mornings).
2. Here is the proposal. For busy weekdays, hire a professional dispatcher who will work during the core times of call burden: M – F, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The existing team will fill in around this person. Vicky (current admin) will handle calls from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m., and then move on to her administrative work. After 6 p.m., Joe Salazar will handle calls until 8 p.m. On the weekends, Joe Salazar and supervisor for the day will handle calls on Saturday and the supervisor on duty handles calls on Sunday (10 a.m. to 6 p.m.) Sunday is the day where we experience the lowest call volume.
3. Call volume over the last seven years has increased (with a slight decrease last year). See below. However, the role of the admin assistant is geared toward answering calls, helping with data collection, keeping weekly and YTD stats, researching special project needs, preparing payroll and like. With the call volume increasing, “answering calls” has become a more consuming function and there has been less bandwidth for her to handle the basic admin tasks. Steve and Joe have found themselves absorbing these tasks which is not the highest and best use of their time.

4. The A/I management team of our BID security operation feels the hiring of a professionally trained dispatcher is important for officer safety. A trained dispatch person can secure the information needed to ensure that the location of a call or a problem is properly identified, and can get the information out immediately to other officers if there is a need for back-up.

6. This is underscored by a meeting I had with the BID Patrol two weeks ago. During this meeting, several officers made a strong case for a professional dispatcher. At issue are those times when an "officer needs help" call is made, and they don't have the confidence that there will be an immediate response. Because the dispatcher would not be distracted by other duties, there would be dedicated attention. A professional dispatcher would also check in on the officers' well-being after an extended period of time with no communication. There are also times when unintelligible or incomplete calls are made, and a professional would know how to handle these. As we have discussed, there has been an increase in encounters with individuals who are violent or aggressive, and this is a way we can demonstrate that officer safety is highly valued by us.

7. Having observed how this admin role has changed over the years, I see the benefits of restoring the bulk of the administrative work to the administrative assistant, and relieving Steve and Joe from filling in on these tasks. They will also be freed up to spend more time in the field, interacting with community stakeholders and problem-solving on security concerns. They also would be able to conduct mini-audits after a call handled by the BID officers to ensure quality control. And finally, the officers who have been asking for this position, will feel supported and more confident as they go about their patrols in the two BIDs.

Here is the budget impact. Each year, we hold back a certain amount of the security budget for special patrol or unanticipated needs. For example, this is how we ended the year last year (2014):

	Budget	Actual	Variance
Hollywood	1,558,000	1,516,866	41,134
Sunset	801,000	778,112	22,888

The cost to add a dispatcher is $38,000 a year. Divided between the two BIDs the cost will be shared 34/66 percent ($13,000/$25,000). This can be handled within the approved budget.

Subject: Missing Person

Hi Kerry,

The family members of Jason Simarano are looking for him. He is a 36 year Caucasian male who is very sick and has mental illness and is active in a meth addiction. He has been arrested 3 times in the last 6 months, released in 24 hours after each arrest. He was last arrested in the Hollywood Division at Romaine and Harvard.

I am working with DMH and DPH to try and coordinate and outreach team to look for him, but location of course will be hard so thought of your BID(s) and wanted to send his photo in case they see him so we can pin point his current whereabouts.

If we can find him and get him to agree to come in for help, his family is more than happy to come out and get him and take him back home to New Hampshire.

Thank you!

Hi Dave, it was a pleasure to meet you last month at breakfast with Leon and Tom.

I was waiting to get your contact info – but ended up contacting Sabrina yesterday, who was kind to pass it along.

I wanted to connect you with our Security Director, Steve Seyler, with Andrews International. Steve manages the BID Patrol and would be available to connect with you at your convenience to share more about what we do here in the BID. I've attached his contact card.

Also, we had our monthly BID Security Committee meeting yesterday, and a Lt. from the Transit Police was there – they had recently been involved in helping to address issues in front of the Vine Street station. Steve can tell you more about that and get you connected.

Finally, I know that Captain Zarcone wants to put you in touch with Lt. Alex Baez as your go-to person for Hollywood. Not sure if that has happened yet. I'm happy to connect you as well. I know that his wife was in a car accident and he's been with her at the hospital, so not sure if he is back to work.

Hi Kerry,

I hope you had an enjoyable weekend. I wanted to follow-up on the below email. I know you have an incredibly busy schedule, however I was hoping we could secure an on-site meeting with the security lead and clean streets lead from your BID team.

I also help manage our Sunset Media Center and Academy projects here in Hollywood and I know from experience how much easier it is for the BID to assist once they understand the layout and function of each property. If there is any chance to line up such a meeting this week or next, it would be tremendously helpful.

My full contact information is below. I look forward to hearing from you.

Hi Lauren – thank you for the introduction to Kevin.

We have been anticipating the arrival of Neuehouse to Hollywood and are very excited about all the energy this organization and all the people associated therewith will bring to this neighborhood.

I have a small team, and we would love to have a tour of your facility. A couple summers ago, when our building was undergoing a seismic retrofit, we re-located to We-Work down at LaBrea. We understand that Neuehouse takes collaborative and shared work space to a whole new level – and cannot wait to see what you offer!

We are also anxious to let you know about Hollywood, and the services provided by the BID. Your building falls within the Sunset & Vine Business Improvement District (we also manage the Hollywood Entertainment District).

Here is our website – which captures what is going on here, and also has portals to both BIDs.
<http://onlyinhollywood.org/>

Also, we are very busy preparing for a music and arts festival that we are promoting in early November – and it would be great to share this with your members. Everything will be walkable from your building.
<http://onlyinhollywood.org/festival/>

Though we are pretty consumed with getting this event ready to launch, we are only a block away from your office, so could probably come over for a 45 minute tour and initial chat in the next couple weeks.

Let me know; looking forward to it.

Kerry, thanks for the call yesterday. I would like to introduce you to our newest tenant at Columbia Square, Neuehouse.

Kevin and Kerry please meet each other by email...

Kerry is the executive director for the BID that supports the area around Neuehouse in Hollywood.

Kevin is the Chief Development Officer for Neuehouse and very involved in bringing Neuehouse online in Hollywood.

I thought it would be a smart idea for Kevin and his team to meet with your team so they understand what a BID does and how you can help them maneuver the clean and safe services in the area and how you can work best together.

Perhaps an informal meeting at Neuehouse? I would like to include our Josh Garza the property management in that meeting. He will have other items on his agenda so perhaps they can meet before or after Please include me in the meeting but I'm not required to make it happen.

Thanks all,

Everything is on track. The music festival will wipe out the sbid surplus. We cut the hbid festival budget by changing Joes hours so he is the supervisor 3 nights. I am working Sunday so we don't have to pay for an HBID supervisor that day either. We cut staffing for HBID for the rest of the year and will save about 1500.00 a week. We will not go over budget. This festival and the added Sunday shifts have forced us to be a little creative, but all is well. I will show Joe the math.

Steve, can you take a look at this – I want to make sure our tracking is in alignment with yours.

If I look at this, it appears we are running a fairly healthy surplus for Sunset, but we are ahead of budget for Hollywood. Are there adjustments that can be made between now and year's end to create more parity between the two BIDs?

Give me a call manana and we can discuss.

Mike, what we are looking for are new names of people that should be added. This might be the right list, but I just want to make sure that there isn't anyone new out there who should be a target of intentional outreach.

Good evening Kerry-

I think the attachment is a bit disfigured but I can make out most of Top 14. We can remove Robert Blake- he is currently conserved. From what I can see, the rest are still out and about in the Hollywood area. LA DMH met with Marcus Wells last week and hopes to meet with him Thursday. They also gave us a list of other potential clients- Leonard McClendon, Casey Bush, Gavin Randal, Jonathan Chang and Dominique (NFI). We will try to locate these individuals when LA DMH personnel are conducting outreach- they will notify our office by phone when they are in the area.

Please let us know if there is anything we can do on our end.

Greetings friends,

Tomorrow I am having breakfast with Amie. One of the things we were going to discuss is whether our Top 14 list, as it currently constituted, is accurate. When Savannah was here this summer, she updated it with some input.

Given that we have some new resources coming into the neighborhood – I'd like to make sure we have the most vulnerable individuals on the radar of the various DMH teams.

Please take a look at this and let me know if you would recommend any changes. Also, we are missing photos for three – any chance someone has a photo?

Hi Kerry,

As we discussed, you can choose next week to stop in for briefing or you can pick Curtain #2. On Thursday, Oct. 29th, we are having a potluck food briefing at the BID Office. There will be food and dessert. It has been over a year since we had done this. The troops could use it. Your choice, let me know.

Hi Steve, got your text today. Super busy week this week with two board meetings and I had a budget conference call to plan for yesterday so was completely out of pocket.

For today, please just take copious notes. I think DMH is very well intentioned about getting these resources deployed into the street – but the problem is that until and unless they are willing to partner more intimately with community based resources (e.g., BID, providers, churches, etc) their effectiveness is compromised. We have to get past the HIPAA constraints. There is no way that DMH staffers can know about the situation faced by a person on the street as well as the community members who are in direct day to day contact.

I thank you for being there today to represent me. I really wish I could attend this meeting.

We are going to take them into the field on 10-15-15 in order for them to evaluate a homeless man named Ronald. He has no feet and he needs housing and services. This cooperation is a direct result of the meeting you set up on 10-1-15.

No street closures.

We can certainly coordinate with LAPD; that's a good idea. Let's set that up.

We don't know how many people. We are ordering 5,000 buttons to hand out.

Trying to plan for festival. Will there be any street closures. Will we be able to meet with the LAPD to discuss issues? Do you have any idea how big this event will be? Thanks

Richard was taken to the hospital today. Our source is a tour salesman at 6363 Hollywood Blvd. He said he was in bad shape. Also one of the sisters from H and Whitley is back. She said she only stayed in the shelter for one day. We have not seen her sleeping on the street, but they sometimes stayed at the Ratan early in the month..

Subject: Security for Music Festival

Hi Steve, hope that fever breaks! When you are up again, wanted to put our heads together before next week's two board meetings to discuss increased security presence for the Festival next month. First, we need to make sure that we are on budget for the year – I know we added hours for the Sunday morning patrols.

Second, want to see what to anticipate cost and deployment-wise to have increased presence out during the festival – so I can alert the board.

I know you are under the weather – so maybe we can discuss on Friday.

Kerry

P.S. We are working on budgets for next years. Sunset will not have any room to grow – Hollywood, we are still working on this. I'll know more by Friday.
